Part: 6 Management system certification

Foreword by the United Arab Emirates (UAE) Acting Commander in Chief, Major General Rashid Thani Al Matrooshi

As the dynamic environment in our Region progresses, we the UAE Civil Defence Authority, has set forth a number of strategic goals for the delivery of public safety. Our strategic goals observe both the national and Ministry of Interior's strategic plan by;

“Providing an effective firefighting and emergency response system delivered by qualified and well trained people using the latest technologies to ensure lives and properties are safeguarded”

As a result, the UAE can be 'benchmarked' with other Countries that are witnessing a decline in fires and incidents when compared to the density of population. As an example, the number of fire incidents has been reduced by 39% in 2011 compared to 2010, with a marked reduction in small and medium fire incidents, together with a high percentage achievement of a 9 minute response time for first attendance at incidents.

“Providing excellent performance and support during disasters and crises”

Confirmation of performance and support are achieved during disasters and crisis situations. Civil Defence Departments conduct a range of joint fire safety and evacuation drills in association with other safety agencies for both the public and private sectors. Evacuation drills carried out in Dubai during 2011 was estimated at 356 drills, which targeted 178,530 persons. Customer satisfaction percentage achieved was 97.2%. The number of drills carried out has increased by 142.4% compared to the target number set out in our annual plan.

“Spreading a fire safety and awareness culture across the community “

In this regard, a National Safety campaign was launched targeting 'domestic safety' with an achieved target of 50% of homes in UAE being visited during a six month period. This was aimed at preventive awareness and removing violations which threaten public safety. During the campaign, 206,490 houses (61.4% of the total dwellings) were visited, again with a marked customer satisfaction percentage of 92%.

Similarly a National Safety campaign was also executed at industrial areas, with teams visiting industrial facilities at different industrial areas across the country. 31,647 facilities were inspected. The teams also managed to correct violation situations in 13,400 facilities and 53,426 people were trained in the basic skills of firefighting and awareness.

“Equipping operations with the best and appropriate equipment and technologies”

The latest state of the art technologies have been introduced for various services such as, 'e-engineering' for online drawing approval and the '24 x 7 smart system' for building electronic monitoring and protection. Currently 61.7% of buildings are connected to the system and 95.7% surveyed for connection.

In addition, the 'UAE Fire and Life Safety Code of Practice' with our Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) is considered a first in the region. This will contribute to reduced costs and effort. Ultimately this will result in a decrease in accidents and improve command and control mechanisms.

“Achieving Strategic Partnership with Public/Private and Voluntary Organizations”

By ensuring, through careful selection, that products, systems and installers are approved with a listing by Civil Defence, following rigorous third party certification. This ensures that locally we receive the best performance of fire safety products, systems and technologies.

LPCB is widely recognised as an independent reference for all fire and security safety experts. Their testing laboratories and approvals services together with their leading team of highly qualified expert scientists and engineers, guides us all impeccably towards a qualified framework.

Major General Rashid Thani Al Matrooshi

What is Third Party Certification?

A frequent concern of stakeholders is in knowing whether a product will perform in accordance with the stated specifications. These concerns can involve such product attributes as safety, health or environmental impacts, durability, compatibility, suitability for intended purposes or for stated conditions, and other similar considerations. These issues can all be addressed through product certification.

Third party certification is a conformity assessment process, carried out by a body that is independent of both supplier and customer organisations. It provides confirmation that products and services have met and will continue to meet the requirements of specified standards and other normative documents.

LPCB third party product certification schemes are quality assurance schemes and comprise initial type testing and technical evaluation, assessment and surveillance of the manufacturer's quality system and factory production procedures, regular audit testing, labelling and listing.

Similarly, LPCB schemes for suppliers of services (installers) are also quality assurance schemes comprising a technical assessment of an installer's capability, assessment and surveillance of the installer's quality system and production procedures, regular inspection of completed installations and listing.

Benefits of Third Party Certification

For specifiers, regulators, insurers, manufacturers and installers, the benefits of an LPCB approval are:

For specifiers and regulators:

- Risk reduction - specifying LPCB approved products and services demonstrates due-diligence and best endeavour and mitigates against possible accusations of negligence.
- Avoidance of costly mistakes - you can trust LPCB approved products and services to conform each and every time.
- Time - using Red Book Live to search for and assess products and services can save you time.

For manufacturers and installers:

- Increased global sales - LPCB approval is recognised and specified widely throughout the world. In some territories LPCB approval is a mandatory requirement.
- Added value of the product or service - LPCB approved products and services are recognised as providing added value given their ability to conform each and every time.
- Reduced liability - LPCB approved products and services demonstrate due-diligence which can reduce liability for both you and your customers.

What does LPCB Certification offer?

LPCB certification is carried out against Loss Prevention Standards (LPS's). These LPS's include reference to BS, EN or ISO standards as appropriate. LPCB certification are level 5 schemes as detailed in ISO/ IEC 17067 with the added requirement to have a quality system certificated to ISO 9001.

The technical requirements of LPCB schemes are given in the Loss Prevention Standards (LPSs). These documents are drafted by LPCB technical experts in conjunction with appropriate external experts. They are then peer reviewed by representatives from trade bodies, regulators, insurers, specifiers, manufacturers and other suppliers. Finally these documents are approved for use by the BRE Global Governing Body; the Body that oversees all of the certification activities of BRE Global.

Product schemes comprise:

- Initial type testing and evaluation of product.
- Approval and surveillance of the manufacturer's (or supplier's) quality management system to ISO 9001
- Assessment and surveillance of the manufacturer's (or supplier) factory production control system (FPC).
- Periodic audit testing of the product from either the factory or marketplace.
- Labelling or marking as appropriate.
- Listing on Red Book Live

VOLUME 2 LIST OF APPROVED PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

Installer schemes comprise:

- Technical assessment of the installation contractor's capability.
- Approval and surveillance of the contractor's quality management system to ISO 9001 or assessment against the requirements of the relevant Loss Prevention Standard where ISO 9001 is not appropriate.
- Regular surveillance inspections of on-going installations.
- The issue of Certificates of Conformity by the installer to demonstrate compliance for each installation.
- Listing in the Red Book.

The LPCB Mark - the Mark you can trust

After certification of a product or service the manufacturer or service provider may place the LPCB certification mark, as shown below, on the product, packaging and literature etc.

Where LPCB holds accreditation through the United Kingdom Accreditation Service (UKAS), the certified company may include the UKAS symbol (the Crown and Tick) alongside the LPCB mark for certain applications e.g. promotional literature or material and stationery, as shown below.

(Full details of LPCB accreditation can be found on the UKAS website at www.ukas.com)

Where for reasons of space or cost the use of the above full mark is not practical, then the following simplified mark may be applied directly to the product (for some schemes only). The LPCB scheme rules define how and where the marks can be used.

The products listed in Volume 2: Part 5 - Construction Products, are approved under our BRE Global Certification brand - the certification mark for this brand is:-

MANAGEMENT SYSTEM CERTIFICATION

PART 6: MANAGEMENT SYSTEM CERTIFICATION

INTRODUCTION

We offer approval to the three key management system standards for:

Quality - ISO 9001

Now one of the world's leading management system standards, ISO 9001 gives confidence to customers that the businesses they trade with have consistent levels of quality and service.

Environmental Management - ISO 14001

Approval to ISO 14001 demonstrates a company's commitment to the environment and provides an assurance to the public, regulators and purchasers that its environmental policies and procedures are effective.

Health and Safety - BS OHSAS 18001

This is a specification that helps to fully integrate health and safety into company policies and working practices. It also signals to architects, clients, insurers and specifiers that a company takes its health and safety responsibilities seriously.

As well as providing approval to each individually, we offer an integrated service to companies wanting approval under two or more of these management system standards.

Approval of a Quality Management System demonstrates that a company's internal systems and processes are in place and operating as intended. It also measures performance in delivering products or services to an agreed standard.

Third party approval is an independent review of a particular area of a company's activities, which leads to improved processes and increased consumer confidence, and can help to reduce costs. Under the International Standard, ISO 9001, the certificate identifies which parts of a company's activities are covered, and must include design if this is part of its operation.

This scheme is for companies whose Quality Management Systems have been designed to meet the requirements of ISO 9001. For companies that already have a certificated Quality Management System assessed to ISO 9001, we offer approval of the factory production control processes applicable to the products we approve, and these are detailed in the entries listed where that option has been taken.

The entries in this section define the scope of activities that have been assessed under the management system.

Unlike our product approval schemes, which relate to specific products and services, Quality Management Systems approval can encompass the complete scope of a firm's activities at that particular address. However, it is important to understand that ISO 9001 does not provide an assurance to the user or specifiers that actual products or services conform to requirements, since no testing or cross checking of conformity to product or service standards is involved. Therefore, no marking of specific products or installations is permitted.

For companies operating in the fire and security areas with LPCB product or service approvals, our ISO 9001 approval is given in the name of LPCB (see section 1.1). Where companies do not require LPCB product or service certification, then all certificates are issued in the name of BRE Global Limited (see section 1.2).

PART 6: SECTION 2

ENVIRONMENTAL SYSTEMS

Businesses face a growing number of environmental pressures including:

- Energy prices
- Water prices
- Concerns from the public about pollution, climate change and resources
- Legislation
- Environmental Taxes (climate change levy, landfill tax etc)
- Waste disposal
- Environmental impact assessment
- Prosecution

ISO 14001 is a clear way of demonstrating a company's commitment to the 'green' culture, and provides an assurance to the public, regulators and purchasers that the environmental policies and procedures the company puts into place help to:-

- Address public concerns
- Reduce risk of legal non-compliance (Environmental Protection Act 1990 and a whole host of others)
- Reduce costs and tax burden (Climate Change Levy and rebates)
- Improve reputation and marketability
- Manage environmental performance

Assessment and evaluation of environmental management systems can lead to products, systems and services that directly improve the quality of life through cleaner, safer and healthier environments.

For companies operating in the fire and security areas with LPCB product or service approvals, our ISO 14001 approval is given in the name of LPCB (see section 2.1) Where companies do not require LPCB product or service certification, then all certificates are issued in the name of BRE Global Limited (see section 2.2).

HSE statistics show that some thirty million working days were lost due to work related health and safety issues In the UK in 2006/07.

Poor health and safety performance not only means loss of revenue, but also loss of reputation, license to trade and business, and huge extra costs. In some instances it can lead to very large fines or custodial sentences. Good health and safety performance reduces costs and gives companies a competitive edge.

BS OHSAS 18001 is a specification that helps to fully integrate health and safety into company policies and working practices. This in turn helps the company to identify risks, engage staff and continuously improve processes and systems. It also signals to architects, clients, insurers and specifiers that the company takes its health and safety responsibilities seriously.

The assessment standard for this scheme is:

BS OHSAS 18001:2007 Occupational health and safety management systems - Requirements.
